

Think with your head, not with your heart, or at least that's what they always say. But logic takes on new diversions at Eastern Treasures, where priceless objects like this Buddha head abound. An antique piece of weaving, an old bronze item, figurines of sandalwood with gold leaf sit next to intricate kerongsang (kebaya brooch) and handcrafted necklaces.

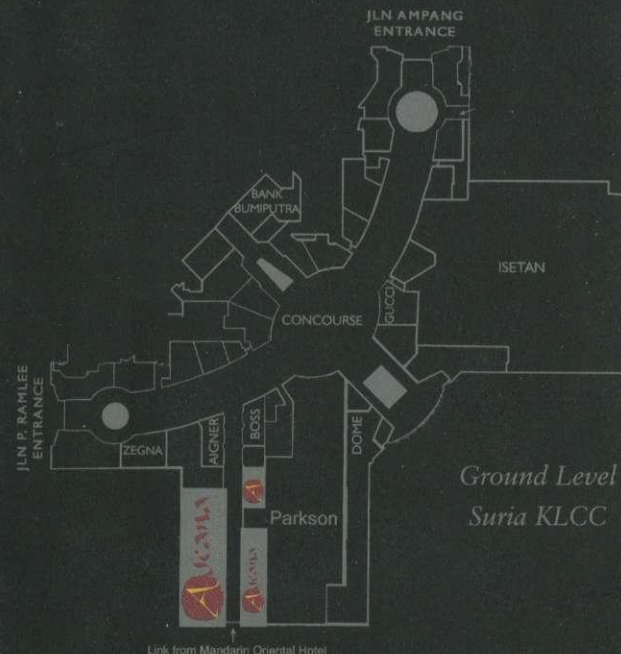

Brilliant

ideas are extremely rare. Especially when they are as affordable as the ones in our Contemporary Jewellery store. The best in modern jewellery, worked in gold, platinum, South Sea pearls and diamonds are offered in stylish and infinitely wearable designs. Classics with a modern twist, so to speak.

Home

is where the heart is. At Aseana's Home & Gifts there's a new language of decor. It's the good life, reinterpreted with the bold spirit of the new Asia. Candles, vases, cushions, tableware, silverware, lacquerware, ceramics and porcelain. Basic, beautiful pieces that we all look to appoint our everyday living space with.

Rice.

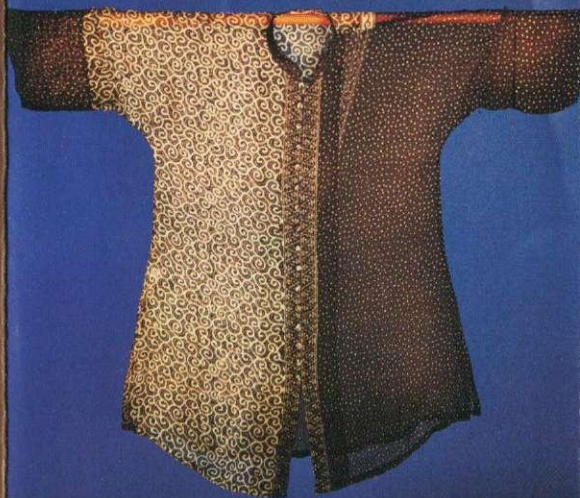

Can anything else capture the spirit of Asia more succinctly? Red lacquer rice bowls from Vietnam, part of the Chinoiserie store, devoted to all things oriental. From fashion to homewares to antiques, the touch of chinois is evident in the pillows, cushions, tassels, place settings, antiques and reproductions sold at this store.

Asean Designers

The cut,

the colours, the design. The world of fashion is heralding the arrival of the new Asean designers as the fresh new voices in couture. Leading designers from the Asean region who define and redefine the sensibilities of their respective regions, and who work with Asean materials, fabrics and colours are showcased in this store. Asean Designers offer ready-to-wear collections, evening wear, accessories, as well as shawl-sarong sets, many of which are exclusive to Aseana.

Café Aseana

Aseana, in a word.

Aseana is a gallery of 10 concept stores that offers the best in design, crafts, collectibles and fashion in the Asean region. Aseana presents products that have all been selected with style, taste, as well as attention to detail, function and form. It's the best selection of gifts, furniture, homewares, objets d'art, jewellery, fashion, antiques, reproductions and collectibles from Malaysia, Myanmar, Thailand, Vietnam, Cambodia, Indonesia, Brunei, Laos, Singapore, the Philippines, and the region; and all with a distinct Asian touch.

Boil,

starch, stretch, paint, wax. Repeat until beautiful. Such is the intricate process of batik making. The results of this painstaking labour of love can be evidenced in the Sarong and Wraps store, where Asia's best fabrics, from silk shantung to handpainted batik on silk chiffon are showcased.

SARONGS & WRAPS

is Malay for 'pull'. Teh tarik, or literally 'pulled tea', is a bit like cappuccino, only with tea. Located entirely outdoors, Café Aseana offers a selection of Malaysian and Asian dishes including local favourites such as roti canai, banana leaf rice, served with a choice of desserts, wine, and of course teh tarik.

A place where East meets East.

Welcome to Aseana. A place

Cinderella

never had it so good. Revel in antique, hand-made beaded
slippers, porcelain, beadwork, silverware and many other collectibles in a store that pays homage to the unique amalgamation of Chinese and Malay cultures in the former Straits settlement.

THE STRAITS

BORNEO

Modern

is not a word often used to describe aboriginal artifacts. But that is precisely what Borneo art represents: the use of bold, graphic elements and minimalist colours. This ethos is evident in the Borneo store, which carries artifacts, reproductions and antiques from this region, including jars, ikats, masks, mats and beads.

Relax,

kick back, and lay on handmade mengkuang mats. Some of the best in Malaysian handicrafts, gifts, and souvenirs are featured in our Made in Malaysia store.
Everything from silverware, wicker and bamboo work, potpourri, basketwork, the Langkawii Crystal collection, mengkuang purses, ceramics, scented caudles as well as art, and stationery.
